FALL BRINGS STEWARDSHIP INTO FOCUS

October brings a host of expected events: OU/Texas football, Friday night homecoming walk-around in Stillwater, cooler temperatures, sweeter weather, and an annual Stewardship Campaign for the Church. It is possible not all the fall happenings listed are met with the same degree of enthusiasm, but each plays an important role within our annual cycle.

Rev. Randy Shrauner
Executive Minister

There are two facets of the Stewardship Campaign I want to discuss: the financial and the spiritual aspects. While the two are certainly interrelated, they each have their individual centers.

It would be difficult to understate the importance of the Stewardship Campaign from a financial perspective as it serves to establish a baseline for our ministry plans for the coming year. The operating budget for Church of the Servant currently sits at just over $4 million dollars annually, with an additional $1.5 million dollars in capital expenses and monies drawn from designated gifts to the congregation. It is necessary each year to generate this revenue stream, as there are few if any funds set aside in reserve.

While this pattern requires a great deal of faith, we believe it is an appropriate response. Our desire is to pour each dollar into current ministry today, rather than storing it away for some potential future need. The leadership of the congregation strives to be diligent in the financial stewardship of the congregation and I believe the results speak for themselves. As we enter into the final months of 2016, we are celebrating an unexpected surplus from operations as well as a nearly $1 million reduction in our total indebtedness in the past twelve months.

As we plan for the coming year, each pledge, whether from a longtime Church of the Servant member or a family who has just recently joined, is important to our ministries. Each pledge, whether large or small, makes a difference. Whether we are paying an electric bill that averages $411 a day or purchasing a $12 book to support a Sunday school curriculum, your giving, no matter the amount, makes the ministries of this wonderful congregation possible and contributes to changed lives in the name of Jesus Christ. As you consider your estimate of giving for the coming year, I would ask you to prayerfully consider what God would have you do.

While the financial aspect of a Stewardship Campaign might seem to dominate the discussion, particularly when we consider what our individual giving might do for someone else, the question of how our giving impacts us as the “giver” is just as important. The spiritual discipline of giving is deeply rooted in Scripture as from Genesis to Revelation. The idea of an offering to God in response to what we have received is ever present. Our giving is not conditional; we do not give with the expectation of blessing (spiritual or material) to occur, and our giving in no way obligates God in our favor. The change is not in God, but in us. We give as a recognition that all we have we have first received as a gift – whether in the form of financial resources or the strength, skill, and ability to generate them. Our giving is an acknowledgement that from our first dollar to our last, we are dependent upon God in all things.

May you find joy in the month of October and relish each and every aspect – even an annual Stewardship Campaign. God is at work changing the seasons, and changing our hearts as year-by-year we grow in the likeness of Christ.

– Randy

HELPING HURRICANE VICTIMS

Partner with VIM and the United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR)

UMCOR responds to natural or civil disasters of such magnitude that they overwhelm a community's ability to recover on its own. Through UMCOR, United Methodists extend loving care to people within the United States and around the world. People in the ravaged areas are seen as partners, not victims, and UMCOR works to empower them. Wherever possible, UMCOR cooperates with other aid organizations to extend its reach. UMCOR provides essential supplies and care—both physical and psychological—in the immediate aftermath of a disaster. Then supports long-term rebuilding efforts and assists communities as they adapt.

Over the last few years when our neighbors around the country have faced devastation from flooding and tornados, we have partnered with The United Methodist Committee on Relief to help. The recent storms on the East Coast and in Haiti have left these areas needing the help of UMCOR. We want to respond to the need by having clean up buckets and health kits available to fill and return over the next two weeks.

If you would like to donate directly to the ministry of UMCOR, you may give online at www.umcor.org/Search-for-Projects. Every dollar will go directly to those in need.

CHILDREN'S MINISTRIES LEADERSHIP TEAM

Hello from the members of our Church of the Servant Children's Ministries Leadership Team for 2016-17. Last year, our mission raised $3,409 to present to Water4, helping to stomp out the world water crisis. This year our team has chosen to support United Methodist Canyon Camp near Hinton, Oklahoma.

Canyon Camp is a place that many of you, your family members, or your friends may have visited. We have KIDZ CAMP there every July, there are family reunions there, our youth go there (our church has many connections to Canyon Camp)! Many of our other Methodist churches attend Canyon Camp. Canyon Camp is available to United Methodist groups as well as non-United Methodist non-profit groups.

Our goal in helping Canyon Camp is to fulfill some of their specific needs, so that the camp is even better equipped to share the beauty of the camp and God's Glory with others. Canyon Camp provided us a list of some of the things that would be beneficial. We have chosen:

- Mattresses for the bunk beds in the cabins ($200 each)
- Air conditioning and heating units for the cabins ($700 each)

We would love to do even more, but that depends on all of us helping out. Our prayer is that together we can provide funding for these things to the camp, benefiting many who go there looking for God's love. Please join us in bringing a donation each time you come to church and putting it in our Mission Collection Containers that will be in the Children's areas. Thank you!

NEXTGEN FAMILY WORSHIP NIGHT!

NextGen Ministries will host our first ever Family Worship Night on Wednesday, November 16, 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. Our mission in Next-Gen is to combine the influences of the Church and the Family to lead the next generation to become fully committed followers of Christ. One way we do that is by creating opportunities for families to come together for a shared spiritual experience. Family Worship Night is one of those opportunities. This great night is a designed specifically for families with kids from preschool to 5th grade and will be complete with interactive family activities and a kid/parent friendly worship service. Mark your calendar and make plans to take part in this amazing experience!

PROFILE OF FAITHFULNESS

We began our faith journey at Church of the Servant when the church was on Northwest Highway. We began visiting regularly in approximately 1985, and formally joined September 11, 1988. Prior to that, we did not have a church home. Obviously, Church of the Servant means everything to us in terms of our spiritual development and growth.

Since 1985, our journey of faith has followed the path of “Believe, Belong, Become.” Our deepening belief in God aided by the teachings of Senior Minister Norman Neaves, led us to seek membership on September 11, 1988. As belonging members, we attended church and Sunday school weekly, and we began to expand that to several Christian education activities. Both of us took Disciples I and II. Dave also completed Disciples III and IV, and facilitated both of the latter two courses. We also took two other Disciples Courses together. We have taken church sponsored trips to Israel and the Greek Islands following the journeys of Paul. In addition, we joined a trip to England learning about John Wesley and his family.

Our journey under the guidance and support of Church of the Servant has taken us to the becoming disciples phase of our faith growth. This has included many wonderful missional opportunities in service to others including a mission trip to help people of the dump in Guatemala City. We have also worked with such ministries as Skyline Urban Ministry, the Food Bank, Rebuilding Together, Exodus House, Whiz Kids and Stop Hunger Now. Perhaps most significantly, both of us are Care Chaplains, who supplement our clergy in reaching out to those who are hospitalized, grieving, elderly, or otherwise in need of prayerful spiritual nurturing.

We have been privileged to serve in leadership positions in the church. We are both currently lay delegates to the Annual Methodist Conference. We have also taken part in the annual Charge Conferences. Dave has served as a member of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee and has chaired it twice. The chairmanship of that body also conferred membership on the Administrative Council. Dave has additionally served on the Mission Council.

As we reflect on the impact of Church of the Servant on us, perhaps the most important things are the relationships that we have developed. Most of our friends are at Church of the Servant. Those friends have been with us through the highs and lows of life. Without them there would have been an unfillable hole in our lives. For us, our church is truly a Body of Christ.

— Dave & Marge Carmichael

STEWARDSHIP IN FOCUS

This is the time of year when we prayerfully consider our commitments to Christ and remember our covenant vows – to faithfully participate in the ministries of the church by our prayers, our presence, our gifts, our service, and our witness, that in everything God may be glorified.

Over the course of the next few weeks, we will hear friends and family throughout our congregation give their testimonies of how their relationships with Christ have grown through their participation in the many ministries of our church. We will also hear from others who have struggled and how the commitments made by members of our church family became the catalyst that turned their lives around and led them to a stronger relationship with Christ.

This journey of self-evaluation will bring us to “Commitment Sunday” on November 6. We will come together as a body of believers and pledge our faith, our praise, and our commitments to the Lord. It is the only time all year when we publicly profess our commitment to Christ and our faith in who he is and how he can use us as a vessel to build a community of believers. Oh, what an exciting time this is, indeed!

PROFILE OF FAITHFULNESS

Looking back, I realize that God has been working on me for a long time. My road to Church of the Servant began when I met my wonderful wife. I was not attending any church and had not attended church outside of funerals or weddings since I was a young child. I felt organized religion was outdated. I felt that I loved the Lord and I lead a good life so that was all I needed to do. As my relationship with Amy grew, we talked about going to church together and we started visiting different churches in the area.

Church of the Servant ended up being a great fit for us as it was an excellent blending of our religious backgrounds. As always, it was Amy pushing my boundaries and building my faith which I am so blessed to have. After attending Church of the Servant for many months, we joined a Sunday school class and that was the beginning of becoming more involved in the life of this church. We started participating in community outreach projects, such as: Rebuilding Together, Servant Day, and various others. Meanwhile, God was building our faith and strength in Him. During this time, we had ups and downs, but eventually had our daughter Rachel. Since she was born, she has always received the love and care of the amazing people in our Children's Ministries.

As I said, God had been working on us, but definitely me for a long time building a strong foundation of love and trust which was put to the test. In 2010, we had been married for 4 years and our daughter was then 2 years old when I was diagnosed with brain cancer. At that time our world had become a blur and our lives were in a chaotic state. We could have folded up shop and just waited for what we thought was the inevitable, but God had been laying His foundation leading up to that point. This church and many other people came rushing into our chaos. Because of the constant stream of support, we knew we had not been abandoned by God and that our faith would see us through. I don't know how we would have made it through that time in our lives without all the people in Church of the Servant and the faith it had instilled in me (us). There are countless stories of support, from phone calls, meetings, meals, and yes, even Christmas lights put on our house so Christmas was semi-normal while I was out of state going through treatment.

Amy and I have "adopted" the mantra, "to whom much is given, much is expected." I was given my life and my family back. Not only that, but my eyes have been opened to a life or peace that I didn't know before all of this. This peace and gratitude is something that cannot be taught, it must be lived out. Not in the sense of repaying a debt, but instead with a grateful heart we became more involved. It started with teaching Sunday school in the Children's Ministries and then branching out to tutoring a young boy named Alan in reading through Whiz Kids. Our lives are terribly busy, but there is an unexplainable joy given and received when you get involved in other people's lives. God is in those moments and He works through us. We have been the recipients and now we hope to pass it along. —Troy Weber

I feel at home here and it's a big part of my life. I grew up in a very small church, so it being such a large church was not familiar, but I enjoy it. I like still being able to take part in small groups like our Sunday school class and Bible studies and to develop relationships.

We have made a lot of friends at Church of the Servant and it has been our daughter's church for her entire life. She was baptized here as a six month old and just recently received her third grade Bible here. After living near the church when we first attended, we moved to Yukon for several years. Even though we liked living there, we moved back to Northwest OKC and one main reason was to be closer to our church.

We have been teaching Sunday school for close to five years now. The first class was four year olds, then first graders and now third graders. It's important to us to be a part of the children's area where our daughter is involved. We also take part in other missions through the church like Stop Hunger Now and the recent apartment complex cookout. We think it's important for her to know the importance of showing God's love to others through our actions.

Several years ago, shortly after being diagnosed with a brain tumor, Troy went out of state for surgery, radiation and chemo. He was gone for seven weeks right around Christmas and New Years. I was home with our then two year old daughter and I carried our health insurance through my job, so it was very important for me to work a certain number of hours to maintain our insurance. People from our Sunday school class, ministers and members of Care Ministries were very supportive during that time. We received meals, phone calls and lots of prayer. Friends and strangers alike at our church played a big part in helping us through that very difficult time.

We love having the opportunity to have great friendships, to learn about and worship God, and to serve others.

— Amy Weber

NEW BIBLE STUDIES

Buck And A Bible, a study for men

Buck and a Bible, meets Tuesdays, 6:30-7:30 a.m. in Community Hall. The new study is by John Piper, entitled What Jesus Demands of the World. The four Gospels are filled with demands from Jesus and these demands are loving directions for our good and ultimate satisfaction. We hope to see you there!

The Journey, a co-ed study

It's a story you know by heart, but The Journey will give you a new perspective on the story of Mary and Joseph's journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem. As he did with the crucifixion in 24 Hours That Changed the World, Adam Hamilton once again approaches a world-changing event with thoughtfulness. Using historical information, archaeological data, and a personal look at some of the stories surrounding the birth, the most amazing moment in history will become more real and heart-felt as you walk along this road.

The Journey is a short five-week study beginning Tuesday, October 25, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in North Adult, room 12. It will be led by John Farr. You can register online at churchoftheservant.com/events.

WOMEN

THE GIFTS OF CHRISTMAS

The second annual women's event, The Gifts of Christmas, is coming Friday, November 18, 6:30-9:00 p.m. Before the hustle and bustle of the holidays, come for an engaging evening of fellowship, worship, and inspiring words brought to us by international women's speaker Lisa Harper. Lisa is based in Nashville, TN and is known for the years she spent traveling and speaking with Women of Faith. Lisa will be sharing how the gift of God's promise can shape our hearts and lives as we approach the holiday season. Invite the women in your life to come with you for this evening. We will begin the evening with a dessert and coffee bar. The cost of the evening $25 and it includes a thoughtful take home remembrance of the evening. Tickets are available at www.churchoftheservant.com/events and on Sundays at the table in the Concourse.

DEEP AND WIDE HEARTS

Fifteen years ago, a group of women began meeting and growing in discipleship and fellowship together. Over the years, these women have celebrated and grieved together, journeying through births, death, marriages and divorces. They supported each other through many seasons of life.

In summers past, they had studied a book, but this year decided in the break to explore what it means to serve together. Mission has always been a part of this group, as many of the women are connected to service in our community.

In Piper Pfister's words: Our group doesn't like not being together, so in the past we have met at different restaurants on Wednesdays during our extended breaks. Close to the end of our summer study, we were discussing how long of a break we were going to have this time. We started talking about serving on Wednesday nights instead of just getting together for dinner. We served twice at Infant Crisis Services. We served dinner at The Salvation Army with Jill's company. We served at Goodwill, the Regional Food Bank of Oklahoma, and we cooked dinner for Ronald McDonald House. The final week, we got to spend time setting out flyers at the apartments and getting to talk to some of the precious tenants, who were so excited about the offer made by our church.

I believe that all who participated, walked away touched. I feel that it brought us closer to each other's hearts as we shared God's love to others in need. It was amazing to see and talk to those we shared the evenings with, and to hear and feel their heartfelt appreciation of what we were doing. We decided at the end of our break that this is how we want to spend ALL of our breaks from now on. God is so amazing and it's so awesome to get to be a part of His service. I truly hope that our story will inspire other Bible study groups and youth groups to spend time giving to those in need right in our own backyards. It will connect our church family in new and wonderful ways as well.

In Miki Farris' words: We believe that anytime you serve together it adds another dimension to the bond that we have with each other and the group as a whole. Serving always makes us feel better and serving together takes it up a notch. It keeps us in communion with God as well.

Since the beginning of this Bible study group, we have done a mission-related activities. We decided this year that on our breaks that we were going to do more service projects for more organizations and that way we would still be able to see each other every week.

The beauty of the Bible study is we love studying the Word together, but it is also a circle of friends and prayer warriors that love each other dearly. Everyone is welcome! This study meets on Wednesdays, 6:30-8:00 p.m. in North Adult room 12.
